Milk:	Cow's Milk
Type:	Washed rind

The name d'Affinois is a play on 'affinage' - the French word for the ripening process of cheese. Cheese is made in Belley, a small town nestled at the foot hills of the picturesque French Alps, surrounded by ancient forests and famous for its many waterfalls, and local farmers supply the dairy with luscious milk from their herds of Montbeliardes and Holstein cows that graze on dense pastures nearby.

Named after the French word for countryside, Campagnier is a subtle washed rind cheese with a deep amber coloured rind. This amber colour comes from annatto, a South American plant under which, the silky smooth texture of this soft, savoury, silky cheese delivers lactic creamy flavours.
